

If you are having trouble using your iPad's built in Microphone or Camera, the Google Meet app may look like this, with red exclamation points next to the Microphone and Camera icons.

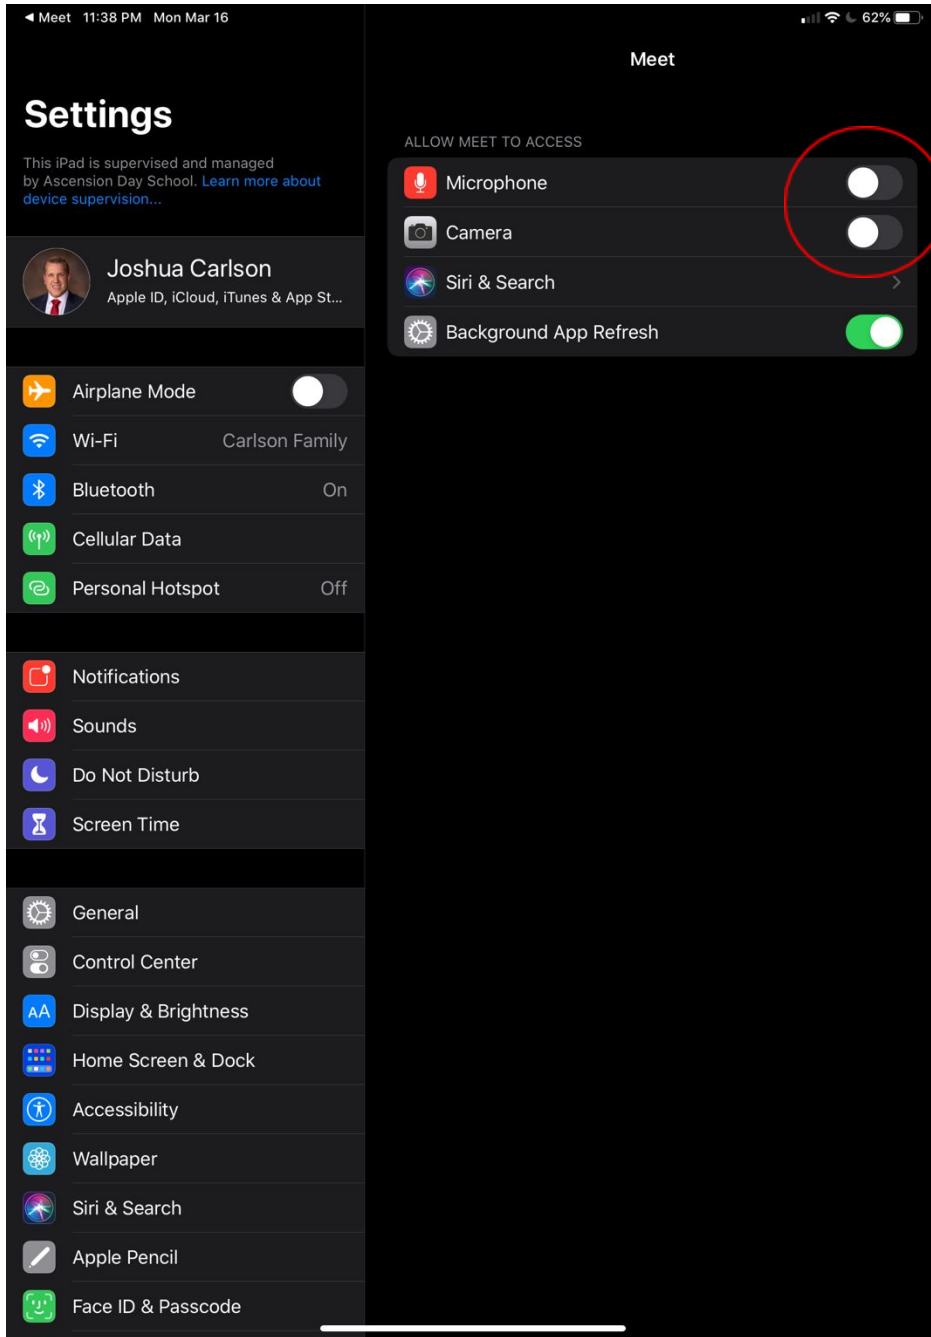

To correct this issue, click on one of the red exclamation points.

When the “Permissions Window” pops up, click on Settings.

If the Microphone and/or the Camera setting is turned off, turn them both on and then return to the Google Meet App.

This should resolve any Microphone/Camera issues within Google Meet.
